Furniture four Generations

We at Walters understand longevity. Not only with the furniture we craft, but the relationships we build with our clients. As the fourth generation to witness the growth and development of Walters, one thing has remained the same – the integrity found in each piece we build. So much so, the Walters brand has become synonymous with the highest of standards in the outdoor furniture industry

At Walters, we thrive off of the needs of our clients and the challenges the ever-changing design industry presents. Our products and designs have endured the test of time and our collections boasts an array of styles and materials, ranging from classic recognizable designs to our new contemporary concepts which incorporate the newest styles and on-trend innovations.

We continuously offer client-focused service to our loyal partners and the greater design community by providing inspiration, innovation and customer support. Our success hinges upon the collaboration of our customers design concepts and our production capabilities to realize and make possible residential and hospitality installations all around the world.

The once small wicker and upholstery furniture company my great-grandfather started has changed immensely over the past 80 years. However, our goal has always remained the same; to provides our clients with timeless design and style which will not only last a lifetime, but for generations.

by Roger Thomas

“The economy of line, elegance of silhouette, perfection of comfort and beguiling details enchanted my young mind and have stayed with me for a lifetime. Having grown up in sublime interiors populated with the works of Eames, Nelson, Saarinen and Girard – I drew from these treasured memories to imagine the quintessential neo-modernist expression of comfort and beauty for outdoor living.”

VENEZIA

A timeless design, yet simultaneously unique and distinctive. Sculptural elements paired with functionality, result in a collection meant to make a statement.

Materials and Finishes

For more than 80 years Walters has offered a wide array of materials and custom finishes. Allowing our clients limitless possibilities for the unique creations they envision. Handcrafted by some of the industries finest artisans, no detail is left unnoticed. Best known for our intricately woven wicker technique, Walters has mastered the art of various natural materials over the years.

Durable, lightweight and malleable, Walters aluminum frames are finished with high performance powder coating and are resistant to outdoor conditions. Both flexible and resilient, our rattan is hand-stained as a means of enhancing the definition of the grain. Ultimately, enhancing the depth and character of each frame. While Walters premier teak only gets better with age as it is exposed to the harsh elements of the outdoors. This natural weathering of teak results in an aesthetic which enriches any outdoor space and effortlessly blends into its natural surroundings.

Classic Walters finishes such as Coffee Cream and Chocolate have stood the test of time, while Silver Stone and Shimmer Russet allot for our clients to push design boundaries. Each distinct and rich in their own regard, as a whole our finishes encompass a color palette which bring out the natural beauty of every piece.

Upholstery and Textiles

Upholstery is the finishing touch which enhances the form of every carefully crafted frame. Walters prides itself on upholstery details. No detail is left unnoticed. Box-edge or knife-edge, French seam or welt, Walters expert artisans finish each piece with immense precision.

Walters offers standard cushioning for both indoor and outdoor use. We strongly believe choosing the right cushioning is imperative when creating any outdoor space. Several factors should be considered including aesthetic, climate and maintenance. Our team works closely with clients to ensure all variables are considered. Developed from the leading foam and feather products Walters high-resiliency foam, provides a firm yet forgiving fit and is suitable for outdoor use in most climates.

Our team will work with your custom needs. From altering cushion measurements to specifying specific fill requirements, Walters will make the appropriate accommodations based on our clients needs.

Outdoor COM is used for all exterior cushions. Walters recommends Giati Elements. As one of the early innovators of sophisticated textiles of the outdoors, Giati Elements offers over 250 textiles.
